Crisp and Tasty:

We have produced a new Triscuit. You will like it better than the old Triscuit, bécause it is thinner, crisper and better baked. The more you chew Triscuit the better it tastes and the more nutriment you get out of it. Triscuit for children develops sound teeth and healthy gums. It is a real shredded whole wheat cracker and contains all the bran you need to promote "bowel exercise." It is delicious for lunch. Toast it and eat it with butter, soft cheese or marmalade.

PLASTI-CHROME

the new vogue that has caught feminine fancy and is daily growing in popularity

CLASSES IN THIS PLASTIC ART VOGUE STARTED TODAY ON OUR 5th FLOOR

(under the capable management of Mrs. Wolfe)

One of the finest things about the vogue of Plasti-Chrome is the number of objects that lend themselves to it -Wall plaques, candle-sticks, vanity-boxes, jewel cases, book-ends and lamp bases are just a few of the many things which this art can be beautifully and appropriately applied.

the method is very simple

The lady starts to Plasti-chrome a plaque on which a picture is to be centered. First she sees that the plaque is perfectly smooth and sandpapers any rough places. Then she marks on the plaque, just where the picture is to be. Dampening the back of the picture and applying the glue she pastes the picture in the correct position on the plaque. After the glue is dry she waxes the picture with floor wax.

The next step is to tack on small sticks so that they form a frame around the picture. The sticks are tacked on with 3's inch brads and lap 1-16 of an inch over the edge of the picture.

The plaque is now ready to be covered with Persian Clay, which is the basis of Plastichrome work. The clay is applied with a broad flat clay brush. It is not laid on smooth but is stippled. This is done by working the brush up and down in a thin layer of clay. The sticks are covered by pressing the clay over the edge away from the picture. As the clay dries, rough places appear on its surface. These are smoothed down with No. 00 sandpaper.

When the clay has thoroughly dried, the gold is applied. Gilt and gold mix are mingled in a small container. This muxture is applied to the clay surface, by flowing gently from a full brush. Sometimes two coats are needed. The gilt must dry for at least an hour. .

The next step is to cover the gilt with paint. This is done merely to tone the gold. Various paints give different tones and this is one of the most fascinating things about Plastichrome work. The paint is applied in the same manner as the gilt, and then is allowed to stand until it turns dull in tone, which takes from one to three hours.

Now the work is nearly done. The lady takes a soft cloth, makes a wad of it and gently rubs off the paint until the gold shines through in the tone desired.

Finally she covers the entire surface of the plaque with Antique Powder, dusting it on , ofthy. With a clean cloth she gently but quickly rubs off the powder so as to polish the gold and give the plaque an antique look and then after admiring the beauty of her finished handiwork SHE IS READY AND EAGER FOR MORE TO DO.
